

IMPROVE FINANCIAL REPORTING

The three most important aspects of financial reporting are to be Accurate, Timely and Provide Useful Information. Financial statements should include an income statement with a comparison to the prior year and current year's budget; a balance sheet compared to the prior year with key ratio analysis; and more than just data – as the owner or executive, you need information that will enable you to make decisions. We can re-design your monthly financial package to deliver this and more. We specialize in creating custom financial dashboards that will graphically show you financial trends, analysis, and performance of your company's key metrics.

Richard Burke, CPA, CGMA, CMAA, MBA

Senior Financial Executive, CFO, Certified M&A Advisor and Business Consultant